

Hi Jimmy,

It's done – phew!! I've put links below to where I have shouted about your event – I am truly inspired by the enormity of what you all achieved, and just wish there were more groups out there like yours!

Here's hoping that visitors to the beaches notice how clean they now are, and are deterred from dropping their litter! I'm actually holding my own beach clean tomorrow in East Lothian – have managed to rally up 27 volunteers which is nothing like yours, but we're hoping to make a bit of a difference to a beautiful part of the world.

Thanks again, and best wishes,

Juliette
